HEAVY DAMAGE IS DONE BY LIGHTNING

DONE BY LIGHTNING

Heathsville, Va., July 4.—The store and barn (the latter containing about $300 worth of hay) of J. W. Pearson & Co., Lottsburg, Va., were burned last night, and the entire stock of goods lost. The loss in building and goods amounted to about $15,000. This was covered by insurance for $5,000.

The flames broke out about 11 o'clock, and the entire building was in a sheet of flame before help could arrive. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it is generally supposed that the building caught fire from some outside source.

Yesterday afternoon, during the severe electrical storm that raged here for more than an hour, a large barn filled with provender, belonging to Lloyd Winston, Avalon, was struck by lightning, and, together with the entire contents, was burned to the ground.

The storm yesterday was one of the most severe of recent years in this section, and considerable damage was done to crops and buildings in the vicinity of this village.

It is astonishing that this piece of enterprise on the part of the Arm-strongs should not have excited a greater amount of attention in the United states. The Armstrongs are, next to the Krupps at Essen, perhaps the greatest ordnance and warship construction concern in the world, and than y advantages and facilities which they do not enjoy at Elswick. It is to Sir Percy Girouard's initiative that this move of the Armstrongs is due, and it is he who will be the mounts. and it is he who will be the moving spirit of the works at St. Lambert. Sir Percy has had an extraordinarily brilliant career. Born on this side of the Atlantic, as a son of Justice Desire Girouard, of the Supreme Court of Canada, and a lineal descendant of Antoine Girouard, secretary to that Comte de Ramezay, who was Governor of French Canada in 1700, he received his military education at the Ro-Military Academy, at Kingston. was for a time employed on the en-gineering staff of the Canadian Pacific Railroad, where he obtained a prac-tical knowledge of railroad engineering, which proved of value to him when later on he joined the British army, that being the one branch of all others of which the corps of Royal Engineers, to which he was attached.

There were ninety-seven in the party, and they traveled in two special coaches. Not a man in the camp suffered any sickness, and with the exception of being slightly fatigued by their long ride, were as well and hearty as could be expected.

The veterans expressed themselves as highly pleased with their trip, with the food furnished, which they declare was wholesome and plenty of it.

A. P. Hill Camp was invited to attend a banquet in Philadelphia last night given by Philadelphia Post, G. A. R., but owing to the fact that they had made all arrangements to return home the two comes had a scaled set.

important governorship of British East Africa, and his commission in the army as colonel of the Royal Engineers, in order to become a partner and active director of the great ship-building firm of Armstrong, Whitworth & Company, of Elswick, came over here at about Easter time, under the pretext of visiting his relatives in Canada, where he was born. He, however, turned his stay to good account. For he has secured for the Armstrong concern a tract of some 250 acres on the south bank of the St. Lawrence, opposite Montreal and near St. Lambert. Works are immediately to be erected, the necessary plant brought from England, and it is anticipated that by this time next year the works will be in operation. By the second year it is anticipated that there will be employment for at least 4,000 men. Other English shipbuilding interests have been led by the Armstrongs' ex-ample to likewise move towards establishing branch works on the St. Law-rence River, the idea being that Can-ada will in future build her own steamboats and also all the warships

These manuscripts were in the form of long letters addressed by Oscar Wilde to Lord Alfred Douglas, and which the latter had never received. The literary executors of Oscar Wilde, finding these letters among the dead man's papers, had taken it upon themselves to confide them to the British ever since. The highest legal authorities are, however, of the opinion that being in the form of letters addressed to Lord Alfred Douglas, the MSS, in question are his property, and that the British Museum must, therefore, surrender them to him.
